The Cosmetic & Reconstructive Support Program (CRS™) of NCADV was created to connect survivors of domestic violence to medical associations and professionals. Assistance is available for those who need medical treatment or services to repair injuries inflicted by an abusive spouse or intimate partner. Currently, NCADV assists survivors with the application process to medical programs, including FACE TO FACE and Reconstructing Hope. We also refer those in need of different services to other entities, associations, and organizations.

APPLICANTS MUST MEET ALL THE FOLLOWING GUIDELINES TO QUALIFY FOR MEDICAL SERVICES:

The applicant must have received the physical injuries from an abusive intimate partner or spouse. For example: husband, wife, partner, boyfriend, girlfriend, someone the applicant dated or with whom applicant has a child. Other situations, while traumatic, do not qualify. If the injury was caused by child abuse, elder abuse (if not a former romantic partner), sibling abuse, caregiver abuse, parent abuse, violent attacks, stranger assault, or accidental injury not related to domestic violence, the application will be denied.

The applicant must be out of the relationship.
If the applicant is not out of the relationship, the application will be returned to the applicant.

All applicants must have had contact with a domestic violence advocate, social worker, counselor or therapist a minimum of one time.

This application will be returned if Page 4 is not completed properly. The applicant may visit www.domesticshelters.org to find their nearest local program or contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-7233 to get the phone number of the nearest domestic violence agency.

NCADV CRS Application -2-
Please describe your scars and injuries. Give the dates they occurred. DO NOT send any additional documents or photos as they will be discarded, to ensure your privacy.

---

THIS APPLICATION WILL BE RETURNED TO YOU IF THE FOLLOWING SECTION IS NOT COMPLETED

All applicants for the CRS program must see a counselor, advocate, social worker, therapist, or minister at least one time before the application is completed. There are two reasons for this requirement:

- To connect the applicant with local support systems within their community
- To have an independent source confirm that after having heard the applicant’s story in at least one in-person interview, they believe the applicant received their injuries from an intimate partner or spouse and that the applicant is now out of the abusive relationship.

The applicant may either see someone they have talked with in the past or seek a referral to a local domestic violence program. To find the phone number to a local domestic violence program, visit www.domesticshelters.org or call the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-7233.

If the counselor, advocate, social worker, or therapist needs more information about the CRS™ program before completing this application, contact NCADV at 303-839-1852 ext. 109.

7) If your address or phone number changes, please notify NCADV as soon as possible. If we are unable to contact you, your standing in the program may be jeopardized. To reach NCADV by phone, call (303) 839-1852 x 109. You may also email us at mainoffice@ncadv.org. Be sure to clarify that you are an applicant to the program.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER I MAIL MY APPLICATION?

• If there is a problem with your application, it will be returned. Once your application is received and if it is determined that you qualify, you will be notified in writing by NCADV that your application was accepted and forwarded to the appropriate medical agency. If it is determined that you do not qualify, you will be notified in writing by NCADV (please note this may take up to two weeks).

WHAT HAPPENS IF I QUALIFY?

• If accepted, the medical agency will contact you with a referral to a medical professional as close to you as possible. Please know this process takes time and it may take up to 2 months before you are contacted.

• When you see the medical professional for the first time, they will let you know what they can do for you, what they cannot do for you, or whether you further qualify for the program. The medical professionals have the final say on whether or not they can do the work that you need. There is no guarantee that you will be able to benefit from this program until you see the medical professional for the first consultation. If you must cancel an appointment for any reason, notify the medical professional’s office directly (failing to show up for an appointment without calling could jeopardize your standing in the program).

• While the medical professionals directly assisting you are volunteering their services, there is no guarantee that other services will also be free (hospital stays, prescriptions, anesthesiologists, x-rays, follow-up treatment, etc.). Talk with your doctor about how these costs can be reduced or eliminated. You may be able to use your health insurance, Medicaid, or Victim’s Compensation to help with other costs; be sure to verify this prior to any services you receive. Costs incurred by you are not reimbursable.
