Resource Referral Checklist for Conducting a Risk Assessment for Violence against Women

This is a list of services you may need for client referral as a result of conducting a risk assessment for violence against women. Knowing these resources exist and how to make the referral to them can often ease the risk assessment process for staff. Feel free to modify the list and identify the local provider available to you and your clients in your community in the space provided.

☐ Legal help:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Law enforcement:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Counseling:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Support groups:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Service for children:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Employment programs:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Educational programs:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Shelter:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Local domestic violence/intimate partner violence hotlines:

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

☐ Transitional housing: